

Specialists in Third Party Risk Management

Organisations of all sizes have become more dependent upon Third-Parties to manage and process their mission-critical operations, Customer and Employee Personally Identifiable Information (PII) and commercial activities. Understanding the key policies, security practices, and other controls suppliers use to protect this information is now critical to ensuring operational efficiency, security and regulatory compliance.

Established in 1999, we have become one of the UK's leading providers in the design, implementation and management of Third Party Risk Management (TPRM) and IT Security services.

We have a proven model for Third-Party risk reduction and mitigation. Our suite of consultative and managed services improve your ability to manage increasing numbers and complexity of outsourced supplier risk backed by leading risk intelligence and automation platforms.

As a Shared Assessments program member and registered Assessment Firm we utilise industry-standard practices including Standardised Information Gathering (SIG) questionnaires and Agreed Upon Procedures (AUP) for onsite assessments.
